

Day 1, afternoon

Shopping time !!! At the Disney store

To begin the afternoon, we had a break at the disney store. There, lots of our friends bought zum zum bears like Donald, Pluto or Winnie the pooh.

Trafalgar square

Trafalgar square is one of the biggest and most famous places in London, it is situated in London's center.

In Trafalgar square there are two horse statues and Nelson Column. The monument on the right picture is a museum. Nelson Column is situated between two fountains.

Meeting with Yoda

On Trafalgar square, there were two men costumed as Yoda, the movie character from Star Wars. It looks like they would fly but it's just a trick. Lots of person like to take a selfie with these men.

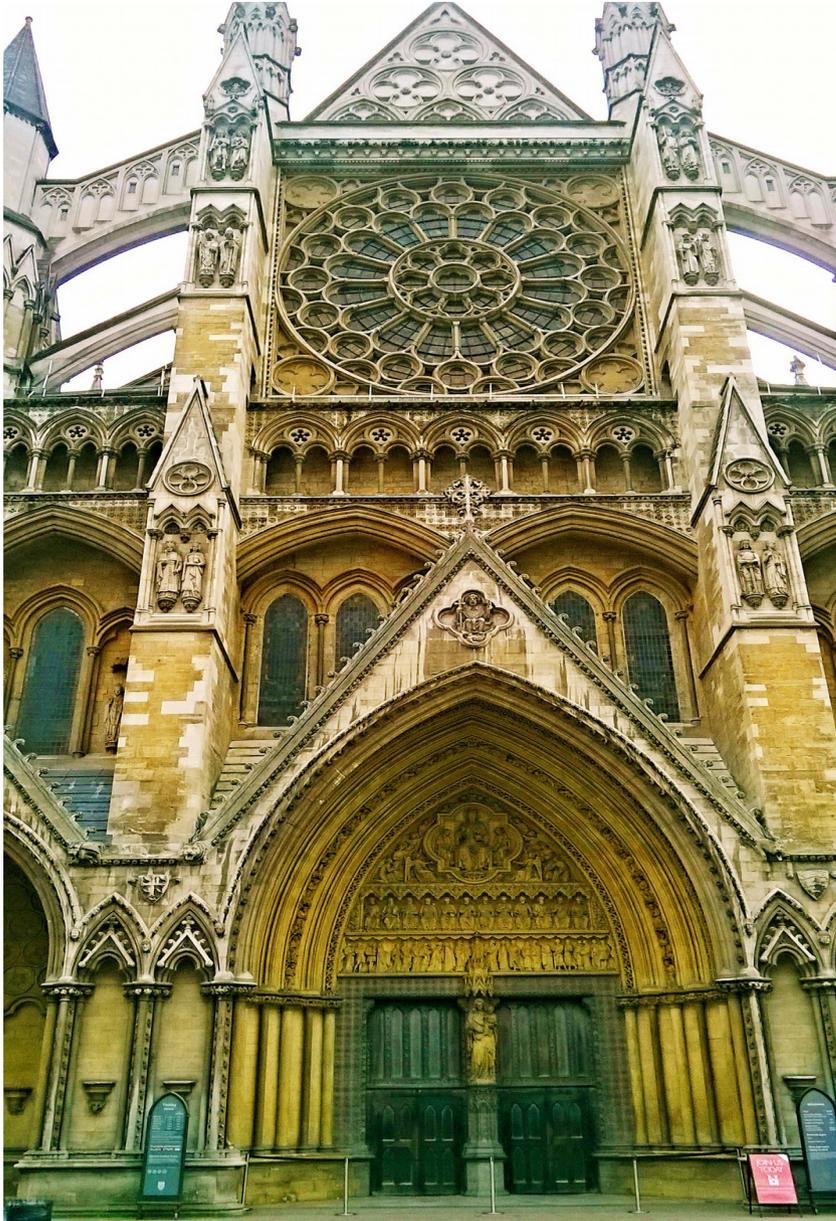

The Women of World War II

This monument is a memorial. It reminds the professions of the women during The World War II. We can see the clothes which are representing these different professions. It is situated in the middle of the street, near 10 Downing Street.

Entering Westminster Abbey by the Queen's door

We entered Westminster Abbey by the Queen's door. Normally, there is an entrance on the right side of the Abbey. But this time, the usual entrance was not accessible because there was work in progress. So we had the privilege to enter Westminster Abbey by the door reserved for the Queen.

Visiting Westminster Abbey

Then, we visited the inside of Westminster Abbey and saw lots of graves of famous persons of the English history. We were especially interested in the poets' corner although we were very tired because there were chairs.

Meeting our families in Banbury

www.dailymail.com - DATED

On the evening, we met our families in Banbury. They brought us home and showed us their lives. We had to speak english because they didn't speak french.

Our family (Inès and Anna) :
Our family was the Jones family. They were two parents:Tim and Nick. They had two daughters called Harry(9) and Mabel(7).Tim is a puppet master for animation programs on TV. Nick is a professor in a kinder garden. They made us delicious food like warm chocolate and pear pudding with strawberries, ice cream and whipped cream. In the morning, they woke us up and brought tea to our bed.

Thanks to our family for welcoming us during this amazing trip with the class!!!

Good Night
